The National Association of Nurse Practitioners in Women's Health (NPWH) is looking for speakers to during breakout sessions at the 23rd Annual NPWH Premier Women’s Healthcare Conference in Anaheim, California October 15-18, 2020.

Presentations:

Presentations should have a clinical focus. Listed below are some potential breakout session topic areas:

- Obstetrics
- Gynecology
- Primary Care of Women
- Health Policy affecting Women
- Professional Development
- Global Health
- Contraception
- Pharmacology

About the sessions: Each presentation is 35 minutes in length and speakers should limit the presentation to 30 slides. If pharmacology content will be included, speakers will estimate the amount of pharmacology content included. A limited number of speakers are chosen to present at the 2020 Conference.

Submitting an Application: Your application should include:

- A creative name for your proposed session.
- Description of your session topic, limited to 250 words.
- Two measurable learning objectives/outcomes
- Detail regarding applicability to clinical practice, use of evidence-based practices, updated guidelines, and the current research.
- Stated expertise for presenting the topic, current CV, and contact information
- At least three core professional references that support the content and any treatment recommendations. May include additional references as desired,
- References must be current within the last five years
- List previous speaking/presentation experience (including at NPWH)

Speaker Information: Speakers selected for podium presentations are required to register for the 23rd Annual NPWH Conference, and are responsible for their own travel expenses (including but not limited to hotel, airfare, mileage, parking, and meals). NPWH will extend a discounted conference registration rate to those candidates selected to speak.

To be eligible for consideration submissions must be received by close of business on Monday, April 27, 2020. Please send your application to Donna Ruth at druth@npwh.org